Dear Marcus,

This is belated in the extreme!

A million thanks to you and your wonderful team for the rehearsal dinner. The food was great! The event certainly could not have happened without your calm competence and equanimity in the face of many difficulties.

That entire weekend left me yearning to have a second chance, not that I knew what to expect. I apologize to you for my failure to communicate that there was a 10 pm deadline; that had honestly slipped my mind! And what on earth caused me to begin murmuring that it was time to begin dinner at 7:30?! Why did I think dessert should follow the slideshow, rather than, more reasonably accompanying/preceding it? For all these "monkey wrenches" that I threw into your smooth operations, I apologize!

But for your managing to do everything you did, so well, in spite of me, I thank you with all my heart. I have received many compliments on that dinner. For me it was all a bliss. But I will never forget your cheerfulness throughout and for making our son's rehearsal dinner a very lovely memory.

Please convey my deepest gratitude to Tom, Dmitri, to the very lovely woman (Kim?) who worked so gracefully - and to yourself for making it all happen.

With sincere affection

Ann Snyder.

P.S. I got at least one spot of candle wax on one of those lavender napkins. Would you please let me know of any extra charges we incurred?
